CATALYZING LGBTQ HEALTH RESEARCH

This PRIDE, we did it for science!

Our team from The PRIDE Study and the All of Us Research Program were super pumped to get the word out about LGBTQ health at so many Pride celebrations this June. We set up shop in Nashville, TN; Birmingham, AL; San Francisco, CA; Oakland, CA; Sacramento, CA and New Orleans, LA! It was so heartening to talk with so many people in our communities ready and willing to contribute to the future of LGBTQ health!

What about you?

Are you ready to do it for science? Join The PRIDE study or find out more about the All of Us Research Program today. Our lives and our health are important!

So, what's the cost of that summer tan?

It's summer, and in much of the U.S. it is HOT. And with all that sun and heat comes a big responsibility – caring for and protecting our skin from UV rays and sun damage. The PRIDE Study is conducting the Sun and Skin Survey on our community's exposure to UV rays and in particular, the use of tanning beds on the health of our skin. It's just one more way that we're taking a comprehensive approach to understanding the many unique and specific ways that our environment impacts our health.

The future of health really does start with YOU.

The All of Us Research Program has been getting some press lately – and with good reason. The goals and ambitions of this study are HUGE – specifically to collect medical and health data on 1 million Americans. But there's something even more special about All of Us – according to this article from FiveThirtyEight.com, “All of Us is specifically focused on minority communities that have very good historical reasons to not trust government-run medical research.... The program's goal is for the database to be made of up of 70 to 75 percent people who are underrepresented in biomedical research.” Ensuring LGBTQ representation in this study is critical and it's why we hope you'll consider participating in the All of Us Research Program today.
